If you still have not thought of how to delight your loved ones around you, make them an unforgettable Christmas gift – the magazine “Plant Protection & Seeds and Fertilizers” 2018.

Give something different and surprise your friends, relatives and colleagues with a smile.

The editorial team of the magazine “Plant Protection & Seeds and Fertilizers” offers the opportunity for an unconventional Christmas gift.

Why give the magazine “Plant Protection & Seeds and Fertilizers” as a gift?

Because you are giving something completely different and unexpected – scientific articles, interviews and stories dedicated to the achievements of plant protection, the world of plants and crop science as a discipline!

Because conducting and reporting on agricultural science can be a very interesting and at the same time useful activity.

Because well-presented information, captured on paper and with the scent of ink, always carries a personal message to its readers.

How to purchase all 10 issues published in 2018?
