

Small click beetle - Agriotes sputator L.

Автор(и): Растителна защита
Дата: 05.04.2015 Брой: 4/2015

The small field click beetle is widespread and is one of the most dangerous pests from the family Elateridae in our country. It damages almost all agricultural crops, including a large number of vegetable species.

The adult insect is 6-8.5 mm long. It is colored light brown to reddish-brown. The larva is 16-18 mm long, light yellow, and has a sharp projection on the last abdominal segment.