As “Plant Protection” has already announced, the aid for compensating the costs of farmers related to the implementation of measures under the National Programme for the Control of Pests in Permanent Crops during the Winter Period for 2016 amounts to BGN 3,000,000. The financial support is divided into two stages – in spring – after the end of the cold period until bud swelling, and in autumn – during the period of mass leaf fall. Producers will first receive BGN 2 million when applying for plant protection products that are used in the period after the end of the cold period until bud swelling. The remaining amount – BGN 1 million – will be allocated for products for accelerating the decomposition of leaves during the winter season, which are applied in autumn during the period of mass leaf fall.
